

Dr. Kingore is an international consultant and the author of twenty-four books, numerous articles, and instructional aids. She has received many honors including the Legacy Award as the Author of the 2005 Educator Book of the Year and the Outstanding Alumnus Award from the University of North Texas where she earned her Ph.D. She was also the first recipient of the Texas Gifted Educator of the Year Award. Dr. Kingore and her husband are the parents of three sons whose needs and talents fuel her dedication to education. Recognized for her humorous and practical presentations, she advocates learning experiences that encourage high-level responses and high achievement from students while minimizing the intensity of teacher preparation time. Her energetic sessions leave teachers revitalized and eager to implement her shared ideas and learning experiences in their own classes. Her web site (www.BertieKingore.com) shares some of her recent articles of interest to educators and to parents. She also includes several teacher-requested activities.
