

Iowa Talented and Gifted Association
2018 Annual Fall Conference
Airport Holiday Inn, Des Moines
October 15 & 16

It's conference time! Learn, share, and reenergize!

Working with gifted students can be one of the most challenging and most rewarding aspects of our profession. The Iowa Talented and Gifted Association supports teachers in facing up to this challenge and celebrates the rewards by hosting an annual conference.

This year, hear from Dr. Scott Peters speaking on excellence gaps, identification, and district plans; Dr. Kristofor Wiley on student boredom, engaging the whole learner, defensible programs, and rigorous curriculum; and expert educators from throughout the state in breakout sessions! Credit is available through University of Iowa, Drake, and Morningside College. Register through www.iowatag.org.

Also join us for a special pre-conference session on the MTSS Guide for Advanced Learners! Join us for a special pre-conference session on Sunday, October 14, 1:00 PM–5:30 PM on the MTSS Guide to Advanced Learners. Credit available through the University of Iowa. Register through www.iowatag.org!

All school districts have funds that are designated for gifted and talented programming. An approved use of funds is to support a TAG teacher's professional development expenses.

Other upcoming professional development:

- National Association for Gifted Children annual conference, November 15-18, 2018, Minneapolis (www.nagc.org)
- ITAG workshop on underrepresented students, April 17, 2019, Central Rivers AEA in Cedar Falls
